President's Message

Anthony Goodson, Jr. | SERC-NAHRO President

Dear SERC-NAHRO Members and Colleagues,

As we gather our thoughts post our Annual Conference, I am filled with gratitude and enthusiasm for what lies ahead for our organization.

and forged connections that will strengthen our collective impact.

I am particularly proud of our Annual Conference Committee, Emerging Leaders, and our newest NAHRO fellow, Mr. Dannie Walker. BackPack Beginnings gave us a new partnership to support children and families. These accomplishments underscore our commitment to advancing housing excellence and equity throughout the Southeast Region.

I encourage each of you to carry the spirit of our conference forward in your daily work. Let us continue to learn from each other, advocate passionately for our communities, and innovate fearlessly in pursuit of our shared goals.

Thank you all for your unwavering support and commitment to SERC-NAHRO. Together, we will make a lasting difference.

Warm regards,

Anthony Goodson, Jr.,
SERC-NAHRO President

Looking forward, we must build on this momentum. Our work is far from over, and the challenges ahead require our continued dedication and collaboration. Together, we can drive positive change and create more inclusive, resilient communities.

The past year has been truly transformative for SERC-NAHRO. Our Annual Conference, held recently in Greensboro, NC, was a resounding success, bringing together housing professionals, policymakers, and advocates from across our region.

At the conference, we delved deep into critical issues facing our communities today. From innovative housing solutions to policy discussions that will shape our future, we engaged in meaningful dialogue

Greetings, SERC Nation!

It was fantastic seeing so many of you at the Annual Conference in Greensboro, NC last month! The convening was one of SERC-NAHRO’s best conferences yet! The relevant workshop topics, the networking and knowledge exchange opportunities, the Civil Rights Tour, and more.

Kudos to President Anthony Goodson and the Goldsboro Housing Authority Team; CEO James Cox and the Greensboro Housing Authority Team; and any others involved in planning the tremendously successful annual conference. I’d be remiss if I didn’t mention that we were also joined by NAHRO’s President George Guy, Senior Vice President Sean Gilbert, and CEO Mark Thiele. Thank you all for making the SERC-NAHRO Annual Conference memorable!

NAHRO ADVOCACY ENGAGEMENTS (formerly Site Visits)

NAHRO is tracking year-round advocacy efforts that help build relationships with decision-makers. Tracking our advocacy engagement efforts will help NAHRO see where members have existing relationships and help NAHRO reach its advocacy goals.

- Tours/site visits
- Phone calls
- Meetings
- Written or verbal testimony
- Ribbon-cutting/ground-breaking ceremonies
- Fairs/community events

If you have questions about an advocacy engagement activity, please contact NAHRO’s Policy & Legislative Affairs team at pla@nahro.org.

AUGUST ADVOCACY 2024

It’s that time of year, August Advocacy, and we kicked it off strong. At the SERC-NAHRO Annual Conference and Exhibition in Greensboro, NC, the Legislative Network Committee launched a new advocacy campaign. Last year, it was the 90-Day Advocacy Plan in support of NAHRO’s 90th Anniversary. This year’s campaign is “SERC 10-10-10.”

SERC 10-10-10 Campaign

The SERC 10-10-10 Campaign will focus on realizing the following:

- Participation from all TEN states;
- An increase in participation by TEN percent; and
- Enlist the support of at least TEN new participants.

Action Alert Center (New)

We asked, and NAHRO listened! The Policy and Legislative Affairs team has deployed a new Action Alert Center that is user-friendly. Letter submissions are easier. You don’t have to be a member to submit and residents can now submit brief testimonials. Visit <https://nahro.quorum.us/action-alert-center> to learn more.

Letter: Tell Congress to Pass Timely, Responsible HUD Funding

Fiscal Year 2025 is upon us, and yet we do not have an approved budget. Please visit the Action Alert Center today and submit your letter encouraging Congress to pass the budget.

SAVE THE DATE

SERC-NAHRO’s Fall Conference will be held in Montgomery, AL, on November 10–12, 2024.

SERC-NAHRO Committees in Action

SERC-NAHRO committees play a vital role in accomplishing all we do as a regional organization. Prior to each SERC Conference, committees take the opportunity to meet in person to review and refine goals, take part in service projects, or put their hard work into action.

This year, our committees came together to meet before the Annual Conference in Greensboro, NC. On Friday evening, committee members were treated to the President's Welcome Reception, where committee members could enjoy a delicious dinner, bowling, shuffleboard, and pool.

On Saturday evening, Executive Committee members were treated to an impactful evening at the International Civil Rights Center & Museum. Executive Committee members were given the opportunity to participate in a guided tour of the museum and its galleries before coming together to dialogue and enjoy a meal together.

The Annual Conference Opening Session has been a part of SERC history since the organization's inception. This year, the Emerging Leaders Committee gave us a new spin on the opening session!

In addition to enjoying remarks from SERC Leadership, NAHRO Leadership, and HUD Leadership, attendees had the opportunity to get up and get moving through fun interactive games. The games helped the SERC family come together and brought an excited energy to the opening session.

SERC Cares Makes an Impact

Through a partnership between the SERC Public Affairs/SERCulator Committee and the Emerging Leaders, the SERC Cares Initiative made a return at this year's annual conference.

The SERC Cares Initiative gives conference attendees the opportunity to give back to the community that we are visiting. This year, SERC Cares benefited Backpack Beginnings, a Greensboro non-profit that connects families with the resources they need to be able to thrive. Backpack Beginnings provides a large variety of services within the Greensboro community, including a family market, food distribution programs, backpack and school supply distribution programs, and more!

The Public Affairs/SERCulator committee came together to raise funds for the agency and raised $4,208, which was donated back to Backpack Beginnings.

The Emerging Leaders volunteered their time to go and assist in creating 612 school supply kits.

Through this collaborative effort, we were able to leave a lasting positive impact within the Greensboro community.

Insightful Discussions on Advocacy & Legislation

So much of the vital work we can be drastically impacted by decisions made in Washington. During our Annual Conference, we take time during the Legislative breakfast to learn more about legislation that may be impacting our work and how we can advocate for the affordable housing industry. This year, we enjoyed remarks from Mark Theile, NAHRO CEO, and Yvonda Bean, SERC-NAHRO Leg Net chair.

Celebrating Achievements & Supporting Scholarships

At the end of a successful conference, it is important for the SERC Family to come together and celebrate all we have accomplished during this time together. This year, we were treated to a decades-themed dinner that had SERC pulling some vintage pieces out of the closet. It was an excellent capstone to the conference which culminated in the 50/50 scholarship drawing and state travel basket drawings supporting the Scholarship Committee.

The Scholarship Committee raised $4,220 throughout the conference through a variety of creative, impactful, and fun competitions and raffles. SERC VP of Commissioners Anthony Sawyer won this year's 50/50 raffle and graciously donated his winnings back to the Scholarship fund.

Thank you for attending the SERC-NAHRO Annual Conference - we look forward to seeing everyone at the Fall Workshop in Montgomery, AL November 10th-12th.

Making Dreams a Reality

- Housing Authority of the City of Bessemer

The Bessemer Housing Authority (BHA) is seeking to develop a 5,000 sq ft. Community Center adjacent to their central office. The proposed property is owned by BHA and is centrally located for BHA residents.

The BHA Dream Center will help close the ‘GAP’ between hopelessness and dreaming. This ‘One-Stop’ center will allow residents to come to one place and receive educational, health, and social services. Eliminating some of the barriers that limit our community will help change the narrative of “Deliver Hope.”

BHA plans to include the following in its state-of-the-art Dream Center:

- A commercial kitchen to offer cooking classes for residents featuring area chefs and menus that are affordable and nutritious. BHA houses a population that struggles with cooking nutritious meals and sometimes relies on fast food to provide an affordable and easy option. Providing these classes will help curb both unnecessary spending and unhealthy eating habits.
- An auditorium will be used as an activity space for entertainment, exercise, and community outreach events. The auditorium will also double as a basketball gym with 6 retractable goals. BHA is one of the few agencies of its size to not have an athletic facility located within its properties. Creating this option will help provide a safe space for activities for our youth and a healthy outlet for their energy.
- Office space to house on-site service providers such as community service organizations and health and wellness professionals. The BHA community may visit doctors, dentists, and mental health providers for emergency situations only.

The Housing Authority of the City of Bessemer
Since 1960

By providing a safe space and making these services more accessible, their residents may become physically and mentally prepared to become more self-sufficient.

- A computer lab that can be used to teach coding and provide tutoring for all ages. Their community is falling behind in technology and education. By creating a computer lab, residents will have access to the tools to help close that gap. Additionally, they will allow educators to use this space as a classroom to reach students within the community.
- A game room for gaming via board games, card games, and other interactive games. The room will create an atmosphere that encourages social involvement, which helps build better communication, interpersonal skills, and confidence.
- A music room to teach children of any age music. Learning music helps develop cognitive skills, and playing an instrument is shown to help develop motor skills. Students of all ages will be able to practice following directions and working in a group to make beautiful music.
- A K4 program space to hold a K4 class, which will include students 3–4 years old as they prepare for elementary school. K4 programs are becoming more available within the state, and BHA will work with a licensed provider to lease the space, creating revenue and educating this underserved population.

In early June, BHA broke ground on the Dream Center, and construction is expected to take around 15 months. For more information on the BHA Dream Center, please visit their website at BESHA.org.

A Legacy of Servant Leadership Remembered

- Gordo Housing Authority

It is with deep sadness that the Board of Commissioners and Staff of the Gordo Housing Authority share that James V. “Bud” Blakney, age 83, passed away on April 7.

Bud served as the Executive Director of the Gordo Housing Authority for 20 years. A lifelong resident of Pickens County, Bud was passionate about the community he served.

Bud founded the Park Cameron Resource Center for the residents of Aliceville’s Housing Authority, where his wife serves as Executive Director.

During the school year, Park Cameron offers an after-school program, where children can receive homework tutoring and participate in arts and crafts. Park Cameron also offers summer programs for children and hosts many other classes and programs, such as parenting classes, resident meetings, and other activities throughout the year.

Bud will long be remembered for his service to the people of Pickens, Lamar, and Fayette counties, and his memory will live on through those he impacted through his selfless service.

Partnership Brings New Opportunities for Residents

Highlighting Community Engagement & Innovative Learning

Suncoast Remake Learning Days is a 10-day free learning festival produced by the Suncoast Campaign for Grade-Level Reading with support from the Patterson Foundation.

Since first established in 2016, Remake Learning Days has taken root in 16 regions across the United States, Uruguay, the United Kingdom, and New Zealand.

The Suncoast region produced its first Suncoast Remake Learning Days Festival in 2022. The 2023 festival included 200 events put forth by more than 270 organizations with more than 25,000 attendees, making the 2023 festival one of the largest in the world.

Each event included in Suncoast Remake Learning Days was free and open to the public and featured opportunities for children and families to learn together.

Arcadia Housing Authority, under the leadership of Becky-Sue Mercer, Executive Director, hosted four events that truly embodied the wonder, creativity, and joy of the festival.

These four events featured different learning themes and gave families enjoyable opportunities to learn and grow together. “Totally Turtles and Wild Watersheds” incorporated an outdoor learning theme; “Artsy Animal Facts” was centered on the arts; “Build Your Own: Planter, Paint, Plant!” was a “maker” event; and “Learn Aviation Hands-On” focused on science. These varied approaches allowed the 354 individuals attending the various events to engage in the wonder, curiosity, and joy of many kinds of learning.

Totally Turtles and Wild Watersheds

At this event, children and their caregivers were able to explore and learn about native species in Florida found throughout our four-county region. In a partnership with Mote Marine Laboratory and Aquarium, families further learned what is harming local species and what they can do to protect them. One attendee said, “This is great collaboration; there’s multiple activities/stations available, and everything is fun and educational,” while another said, “Kids were excited to ‘touch’ real animal shells and skins.” Totally Turtles was totally full of wonder, curiosity, and joy!

Artsy Animal Facts

At this event, families were to learn about the lifespan of different animals, partake in rock painting and face painting, and even learn directly from a veterinarian. Parents were encouraged to use the ultrasound machine first to show the kids how to do it and truly learn together.

Build Your Own: Planter, Paint, Plant!

Mixing DIY crafts and green thumbs brought out creative learning for families who attended this event. In a cross-sector partnership with Home Depot and Peace River Elementary School, Arcadia Housing Authority was able to create a joyous hands-on learning environment for all. One attendee noted, “I’m surprised how many kids had never used a hammer, but boy did they quickly learn.” Another attendee noted, “It was a joy seeing the kids and parents working together to build.”

Learn Aviation Hands-On

One of the biggest collaborations that took place was between Arcadia Housing Authority, a local pilot, and the city to bring a helicopter to DeSoto County for children and their families to actually climb in to learn about aviation! Attendees watched the magnificent helicopter land in Arcadia and then gathered around to learn from the pilot and climb inside to get a closer look. Excitement flowed throughout this event as the adults were in the helicopter just as much as the kids were. One attendee noted the magic as “the opportunity for kids to see a helicopter for the first time in their backyard is truly special!” The sheer dedication that went into making this event is admirable, and based on the looks on the attendees’ faces, it was worth it.

Creating Suncoast Remake Learning Days provided opportunities for connections between nonprofits, agencies, businesses, and arts organizations, strengthening the region’s learning ecosystem. The Arcadia Housing Authority connected, collaborated with community partners, and created memorable events for families, reinforcing the notion that “learning happens everywhere.” To learn more about Arcadia Housing Authority, please visit their website at HousingArcadia.com.

ED Honored by 25 Women You Need to Know

- Tallahassee Housing Authority

Brenda Williams, Executive Director of Tallahassee Housing Authority (THA), was named one of the Tallahassee Democrats 25 Women You Need to Know 2024.

In her 35-year career in affordable housing, Williams makes it her business to ensure that affordable housing is within reach of everyone she can. "Housing is a life necessity," she says, "and anything I can do to help people obtain it inspires me."

Williams chose Tallahassee. After working her way to the role of executive director of the St. Louis, MO, Housing Authority, serving as Transitional Administrator for the Camden New Jersey Housing Authority, and finally serving as the Chief of Staff for the New Orleans Housing Authority, she spent another 14 years in consulting work, providing strategic management services to housing agencies throughout the southwest.

"My day often begins with text messages from people looking for a home," she says. "When I can help someone find housing, it's a good day. I just wish I was able to help everyone." To that end, she is a volunteer for Tallahassee Crime Solvers as a board member. "I want to be part of the solution in the neighborhoods that are often served by my work," she said.

Much of her time is spent working on the $82 million redevelopment of the former Orange Avenue Apartments. "Moving someone into an apartment and off of the street is the most rewarding part of my work," she says. "I like what I do because it's an opportunity to change lives for the better and helps to make communities thrive."

Congratulations on this fantastic achievement, Brenda! To stay up-to-date with the Tallahassee Housing Authority, please visit their website at TallHA.org.

Tax Credit Brings New Housing Opportunities

- LaGrange Housing Authority

The LaGrange Housing Authority (LHA) held a ribbon cutting at the new community building for the newest tax credit development for the Phoenix Way II property.

Surrounded by colorful buildings, LHA staff cut the ribbon on the new community space and their fourth tax credit property.

“This is what affordable housing looks like. This is what affordable housing is, and this is what we do. It’s called affordable housing. We decided a long time ago you got to put people over profit,” LHA CEO Zsa Zsa Heard said.

Heard said they want to build more affordable houses, but they need the community’s help to do it.

“We want to make it diverse, and we want to bring things that everybody can have and really clean up the community. We’re feeding the needs of everybody that needs housing. That means that there’s got to be some for a teacher or a fireman, a lawyer, or a doctor. It has to be all types of houses. So we’re in that business to do that,” Heard said.

Corinne Thornton of the Georgia Department of Community Affairs, one of the state’s housing and community development agencies, said that the new LHA housing is a prime example of the work that they can help communities achieve through housing tax credits.

“Housing Tax Credits are probably the nation’s greatest tool for building affordable housing. The beauty of this program is it lets communities determine what that housing looks like,” Thornton said.

“What these tax credits allow communities to do is build the housing that’s appropriate for them. So you can look around the state and see the thousands of units that we built with tax credits, and none of them will look the same. They will look like what the community demands and what the community needs,” she said. “This is a great example of a local community using these tools to build the housing. It’s just one of the tools that we have at DCA for community housing needs. We’re just so proud that the LaGrange Housing Authority and the LaGrange community in general for doing projects like this.”

About 58 new units are available within the development, but they are currently taking applications and filling them up.

Heard explained that they were able to develop the new housing through a tax credit investment through US Bank.

“They’ve invested $13 million into the deal. So they get a tax write-off every year, dollar for dollar, to fill that gap, to do it. We manage it, and we get asset management fees to be able to maintain the properties, but they get the tax write-off. The units have to be fully occupied for at least 90% of the time so that they don’t lose their tax credit,” Heard explained.

She said they have two more developments in the works, including one using $1.8 million in federal funds to construct four quadruplexes, for a total of 16 new homes on Revis St.

Congratulations to LaGrange Housing Authority on their ribbon-cutting; we look forward to hearing more about your continued development. To keep up with their development progress, please visit their website at PHALaGrange.net.

New Housing Option Provides New Opportunities

- Lexington Housing Authority

The Lexington Housing Authority (LHA) continues to seek development opportunities for affordable housing in its community and was delighted to celebrate with HUD Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary Richard Monocchio another such successful development made possible through a partnership with the Lexington Fayette Urban County Government.

In his remarks, Mr. Simms shared his excitement about what can be accomplished with such partnerships and stated that the visit by PDAS Monocchio highlights the significance of what we do in Lexington, Kentucky.

On May 6, 2024, at an open house and ribbon-cutting ceremony, Pemberton Townhomes were presented to the community. In addition to PDAS Monocchio, LHA Executive Director, Austin Simms was pleased to recognize guests and speakers, including LHA Commissioners, Mayor Linda Gorton, HUD Officials from the Louisville Field Office, Councilmembers, and other local dignitaries, along with several individuals involved in the “behind-the-scenes” efforts to bring this development to completion. Additionally, families who were moving into the new units later that day shared comments.

Pemberton Townhomes consists of five (5) townhomes, each with 2 bedrooms, 1 ½ bathrooms, and 1,200 square feet. They feature front and rear-covered porches, off-street parking, granite countertops, dishwashers, ceiling fans, walk-in closets, and laminate wood flooring throughout. The construction of the townhomes, which began in February 2023, was managed by local contractor The Way Maker Group and designed by local firm Albert & Associates Architecture.

This $1.4 million development was paid for with the city’s investment of $900,000 in HOME ARPA dollars and $516,452 from state and local fiscal recovery dollars through ARPA legislation. The LHA owns and manages the property and will receive participant referrals through the city’s Coordinated Entry program for homeless families. In addition, the LHA will provide case management for participants, and all utility services will be paid.

This new development promises to make a lasting impact within the community, and we look forward to hearing more about the success of this new development. Please visit the LHA website, LexHA.org, to learn more.

Honoring the Past to Build the Future

- Housing Authority of the City of High Point

The Housing Authority of the City of High Point (HPHA) acknowledges that within our communities, our matriarchs are the carriers of our stories. During Black History Month, HPHA took the time to interview two of its community matriarchs, Ida Covington and Nellie Davis. Ms. Covington and Ms. Davis took the time to sit down with HPHA and share their stories of how Public Housing has made a major impact on them and their families.

Through this video history project, you can clearly see that every family HPHA serves has their own unique history. One size doesn't fit all. Therefore, it's important to rethink how we address Public Housing.

Both families highlighted have demonstrated the successful utilization of the Public Housing programs to build foundations for their success and for the next generation. These casual interviews take place within these women's homes, where they have built a life and raised their families. These video essays share the powerful stories of how public housing can drastically impact the lives of our residents and set them on a path for success for generations to come.

HPHA would like to invite you to take a moment out of your day and let these women's stories inspire you and your agency. You can view their stories on YouTube here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?app=desktop&v=5iodaEKOv8U>.

SC CCHRCO BEYOND Scholarship Winner

A graduate of Gaffney High School in Gaffney, SC, Diamynd Buckson was selected as a 2024 Carolinas Council of Housing Redevelopment and Codes Officials (CCHRCO) BEYOND scholarship recipient.

Buckson plans to attend Bob Jones University in the fall to pursue a degree in social work. Buckson had faced challenges throughout her school-aged career, including losing her mother to complications from Sickle-Cell Anemia when she was 7 and the incarceration of her father for the majority of her life. However, she has persevered and used these events to fuel her strive for excellence.

When asked why she was pursuing a career in social work, Buckson responded, "I remember this girl in my class who lost her mom. I was able to be there for her because I've been through something similar. I believe I can relate to anyone who's gone through tough times, especially kids, because I've been there myself."

Through letters of recommendation, a teacher close to her stated, "Her journey has been marked by significant challenges, including a profoundly traumatic event. However, Diamynd has demonstrated remarkable resilience and determination, taking steps to overcome adversity and initiating a transformation that has been truly inspiring. Diamynd has flourished in various areas during the past three years. She has actively participated in community service projects, reflecting her commitment to contributing positively to her community. Her involvement didn't stop there; she also dedicated herself to her church's audiovisual team, demonstrating a passion for technology and teamwork. Additionally, Diamynd has excelled in sports, becoming a standout basketball player and a key member of the swim team. These activities highlight her discipline, leadership, and ability to excel in both individual and team endeavors."

Two $500 BEYOND Scholarship are awarded annually to two residents of CCHRCO affordable housing. One NC resident and one SC resident each are selected to receive the $500 BEYOND Scholarship. Brooks Jeffrey Marketing, Inc. sponsors the BEYOND scholarship for CCHRCO. For more information on the BEYOND Scholarship, visit BJMweb.com/beyond.

New Affordable Housing Provides New Opportunities

- Murfreesboro Housing Authority

The Murfreesboro Housing Authority (MHA) recently opened their newly revitalized Oakland Park Community. Oakland Court was a 76-unit public housing neighborhood on approximately 20 acres in Murfreesboro. The New Urbanist masterplan called for 150 new MHA rental homes, which will be a mixture of single-family, duplex, and triplex homes.

76 homes were replaced in Phase 1, and another 74 homes were added in Phase 2. Overall improvements to the neighborhood include new streets, street trees and lighting, rear parking courts, open/green space park extending into the neighborhood, which provides a new entry to Oaklands Park, walking trails, a pergola structure as well as a new community building for resident events, and an MHA onsite office.

A new street structure for the development has been developed, which is in keeping with the surrounding neighborhood and allows all homes to face the street. Homes have also been designed in architectural historic styles found within the neighborhood to blend with the current neighborhood. All homes are visitable and have a front or side porch, a small front yard, and rear yard/patio which provide room for a small garden plot if desired.

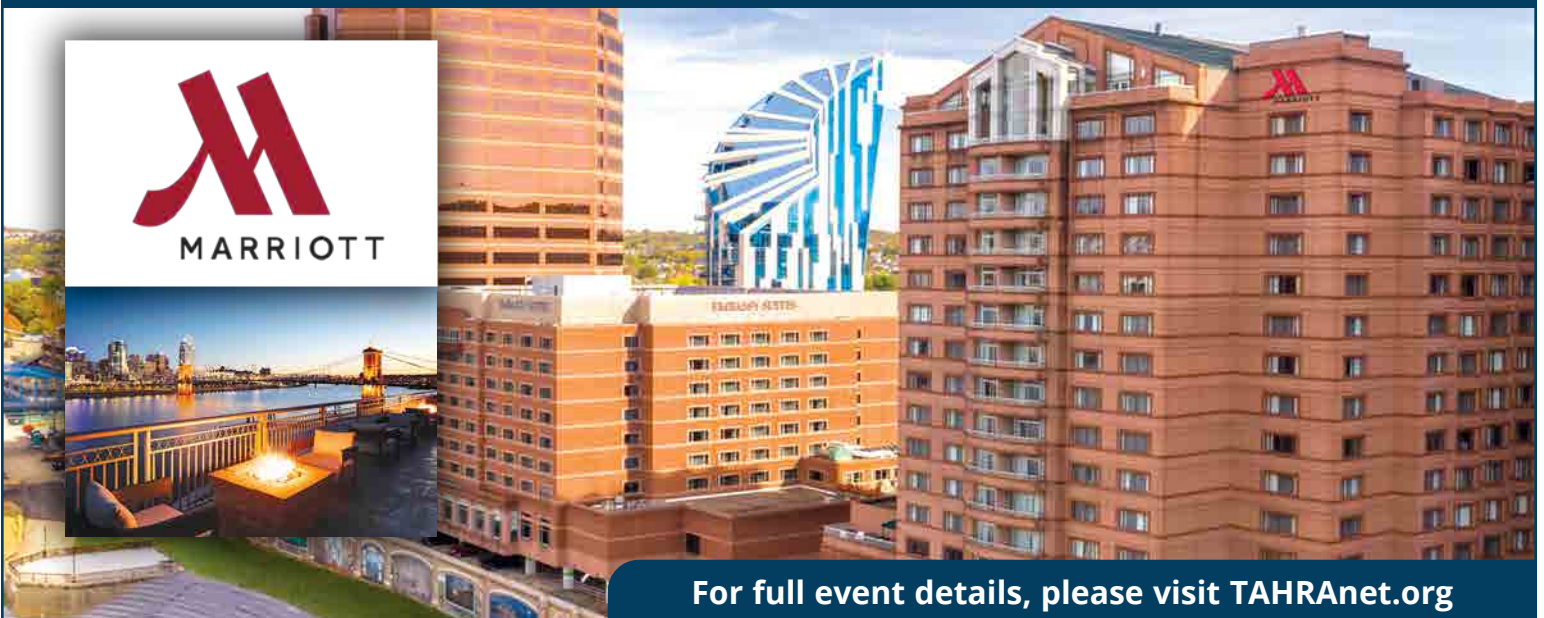

The goal was to transform the neighborhood to respect the historic neighboring homes and to engage the beautiful adjacent Oaklands Mansion and Park in a way that would highlight both the residents of Oakland Court as well as surrounding neighborhoods and visitors alike.

The masterplan was developed over a 3-month series of public input sessions and charettes with MHA staff and board, residents, stakeholder groups, Oaklands Mansion staff and board, city officials, and the public at large. Through listening and documenting these 17 meetings with over 700 recorded comments, the design team developed the master plan to respond to the desires of the Murfreesboro community. It is the goal of this new development to knit seamlessly into the historic neighborhood fabric and bring a new connectedness to this area of Murfreesboro.

Congratulations to MHA on this beautiful new development. To keep up with their other development projects, please visit their website at MHA-TN.org.

TAHRA Members Visit Tennessee General Assembly Members

On March 24–25, 2024, members of TAHRA met in Nashville for the annual Legislative Day on the Hill, where members planned and met with their district General Assembly members. The purpose of the event is for TAHRA members to personally meet their district representatives and advocate for issues surrounding public housing.

On the first day, TAHRA members met at the Cordell Hull Legislative Building, where State Representative Dale Carr of Sevierville, Tennessee (12th district) spoke to the group about various housing-related bills being discussed within the legislature. After the meeting, attendees went to dinner as a group in downtown Nashville.

On day two, members again met at the Cordell Hull Legislative Building, where we organized and planned meetings with our individual general assembly members and coordinated how the group would pass out the souvenir mints to all General Assembly members.

TAHRA's government partners, Harris Frazier Government Relations, arranged for TAHRA members to attend and be recognized at the House Local Government Committee meeting. Later in the day, the group was invited to attend the House and Senate business session where some of the TAHRA members were personally recognized by their elected representative.

All in all, the 2024 TAHRA Day on the Hill was positive and successful. We were seen, we were heard, and we were recognized. That is what advocacy is all about.

The TAHRA Legislative Committee would like to thank all members who attended the 2024 Legislative Day on the Hill, but some need special recognition for their help to organize the event. Christi Billings (Covington Housing Authority), Alex Gillespie (Lawrenceburg Housing Authority), Mac Podlesney and Meagan Frazier with Harris Frazier Government Relations, and Gena Burden (Union City Housing Authority).

Celebrating A Career of Service

- Newport News Redevelopment and Housing Authority

The Newport News Redevelopment and Housing Authority (NNRHA) Board of Commissioners have announced the retirement of their long-term Executive Director, Karen R. Wilds.

Ms. Wilds has led the organization since December 1999, after being promoted from the position of Community Development Director.

Ms. Wilds came to serve her hometown from the Chesapeake Redevelopment and Housing Authority in 1985. As Community Development Director at NNRHA, she led the department in an array of property acquisitions, community improvements, and revamping housing rehabilitation programs. All of which laid the groundwork for much of the current redevelopment efforts in the downtown and the southeast community including Brooks Crossing and the Choice Neighborhood Initiative.

She has profoundly impacted the trajectory of housing and redevelopment in Newport New and has developed long-lasting partnerships with many local and state organizations.

In recent years, she has been an integral part of the planning and implementation of the Choice Neighborhood Initiative and the NNRHA's active participation in the Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD) program.

Dr. Lisa Wallace-Davis, the NNRHA Board Chair, said, "Karen Wilds exemplifies excellence as an Executive Director and will leave behind a remarkable legacy. She can look around the City of Newport News every day, see the fruits of her labor, and revel in her accomplishments. We are so proud of all the work she has done, and we wish her a heartfelt congratulations on her retirement! She will be greatly missed!"

Thaddeus Holloman, the NNRHA Board Vice Chair, said, "During Ms. Wilds' tenure, the NNRHA has consistently been one of the leading Authorities in the Commonwealth of Virginia. She played a critical role in creating affordable housing and, along with the City of Newport News, helped transform the lower Jefferson Avenue corridor. We wish her only the best in a well-deserved retirement."

The mission of NNRHA is: Creating affordable housing, viable neighborhoods, and opportunities for self-sufficiency that enhance the quality of life for all citizens of Newport News. Ms. Wilds has dedicated over 39 years to furthering this mission and has contributed immensely to the development of scores of affordable housing units and numerous community development improvements in the city. She plans to retire on June 30, 2024.

Congratulations to Ms. Wilds on her retirement, and thank you for your years of dedicated service. To learn more about Newport News Redevelopment and Housing Authority, please visit their website at NNRHA.net.
